- 6. During March, work was again begun in the still unoccupied block of the former Navy Artillery Detachment barracks on the corner of Gadebuschstrasse and Faerberstrasse. This block is to be occupied soon.
- 7. The artillery unit which arrived in December also occupies one block. As for the Polish unit of WOP, quartered in another block according to a Soviet officer, it will soon vacate these barracks in order to make room for a new Soviet unit whose arrival is expected.
- 8. The garages of the barracks, located in Gadebuschstrasse, near the old place for maneuvers, were still occupied in January by some thirty Polish trucks. They are going to be vacated in order to house the Soviet Navy transport unit which was at Wollin until the end of March when it moved to Swinoujscie.
- 9. On 12 March 1953, at 1600, in the Prizitor (Pritter) station, about 16 flat cars carrying entiaircraft defense pieces were unloaded (no further details).
- 10. On 10 March 1953, the detachment of the Antiaircraft Defense Corps of Kaffeeberg had an overall complement of 113 men. The three barracks occupied by this detachment are about 25 meters long. Several antennas were noticed on one of them.
